Spring Convocation Set for March 24

UMC’s Spring Semester Convocation is scheduled for Wednesday, March 24, at 10 a.m. in Kiehle Auditorium. All students, faculty, and staff are encouraged to attend. Guest speakers will be Richard and Glinda Crawford, who will present “Becoming a Student of the Universe through a University Education.” The Crawfords have evolved their academic specialties of wildlife management and home economics to embrace a broader view of looking at the universe in a holistic way through art, poetry, nature conservation, feminism, and ethics. Glinda Crawford is currently a professor of sociology at the University of North Dakota (UND), where she teaches ecofeminism and environmental studies. She most recently received the John Meagher Ecology Award from UND. She is also a well-known wildlife artist. Richard Crawford is a Chester Fritz Distinguished Professor of Biology at UND. He teaches courses in wildlife management and advises graduate students and various conservation boards. He is the author of numerous technical articles and books as well as popular conservation articles and poems. As part of the program, the UMC Choir will perform a set of musical selections under the direction of George French, associate professor of music. UMC Chancellor Velmer S. Burton, Jr. will recognize members of the Chancellor’s 4.0 Club from Fall Semester 2003. Varsity athletics team captains will recognize their respective teams and provide updates on their accomplishments this season, including the UMC Golden Eagles Hockey Team, who won the Midwest Collegiate Hockey Association (MCHA) Championship Title and took home the Harris Cup for a second consecutive year.

Singer Bari Koral at UMC March 24

Singer Bari Koral will perform at the University of Minnesota, Crookston (UMC) Wednesday, March 24, at 8 p.m. in the Eagles Nest Lounge in Sahlstrom Conference Center. The performance is free and open to the public. Koral, whose music has been called “folkish funk,” has garnered praise in dozens of magazines across the country, including feature articles spotlighting her 2001 full-length CD “Joy” in Billboard Magazine and Rolling Stone. She released her second CD, “Cloudwalking,” in 2002 and has been touring the college circuit across the country while planning, writing, and recording her third CD. For more information, visit the artist’s website: <www.barikoral.com>. The performance is sponsored by UMC’s Student Programming and Activities for Campus Entertainment (SPACE) committee. Disability accommodations are available upon request and can be made by

Final Offering in International Seminar Series to Focus on Vietnam

The 2004 International Seminar Series concludes Monday, March 22, with “Vietnam: My Native Country,” presented by UMC students Hung Tien Vo and Anh Nguyet Chu. Hung “Bob” Tien Vo, a native of Vietnam, moved to the U.S. with his family in July 2001. He is currently a freshman studying information technology management at UMC. Anh Nguyet Chu, also a native of Vietnam, is a junior majoring in business management. The ethnic dinner begins at 6 p.m. followed at 7 p.m. by the program. The dinner is served in Brown Dining Room of UMC’s Sahlstrom Conference Center and is by reservation only. Cost is $8.50 per person or two meal swipes for students. On campus students only pay one swipe. Please make reservations for the seminar series by calling Angelika Huglen at 218-281-8540 or Brent Melsa 218-281-8538.

Great Conversations Series to Focus on Bioethics March 23

The Great Conversations Series, produced by the U of M College of Continuing Education and broadcast to the Crookston Campus from the Twin Cities, will continue Tuesday, March 23, at 7:30 p.m. in Dowell Hall 220. The conversation “Bioethics in the National Spotlight” will feature Jeffrey Kahn and Harold Shapiro. The event is free and open to the public. Refreshments will be served. From health care reform to genetic engineering to human cloning, the debate over biomedical ethics remains a focal point for policymakers and health care professionals nationwide. Two of the leading thinkers at the center of this debate will reflect on the interface of bioethics, public policy, and scientific research. Dr. Jeffrey Kahn is Director of the University’s Center for Biomedical Ethics and author of Beyond Consent: Seeking Justice in Research. Harold Shapiro is President Emeritus and Professor of Economic and Public Affairs at Princeton University. He chaired the National Bioethics Advisory Commission for President Clinton and served as a member of President Bush’s Council of Advisors on Science and Technology from 1990-92. Learn more about the series at <www.cce.umn.edu/conversations/index.shtml>. The series is sponsored on the UMC campus by the Concerts and Lectures Committee.

Student Fellow Program Nominations Being Sought

The Student Fellows Program and the Student Civic Leadership Institute exist to support and promote students as powerful citizen leaders. Fellows network with their peers, apply and further develop their skills, organize civic dialogues to address critical public issues, and work on local and statewide initiatives. The SCLI is an intensive retreat that provides students with time and tools to do critical inner reflection on their ideas of leadership, citizenship, and coalition building. Students from colleges and universities throughout the Upper Midwest (Iowa, Minnesota, and Wisconsin) will also be able to learn about different institutional change strategies, diversity training, and stakeholder accountability. Each student will also leave the institute with an understanding of resources available to support local civic initiatives, with contact information of student leaders across the region, and other print and web resources to aid their work in creating campus and community change. They each will also create an action plan for the upcoming academic year and will work with contacts at their home institutions and (IA, MN, WI) Campus Compact staff to implement their plans.

Nominations are being sought for the Student Fellows Program and the Student Civic Leadership Institute. If you are a student or know a student who may be interested in this program please contact Pamela J. Holsinger-Fuchs. Applications are due by May 28, 2004. Announcements of Student Fellows will be made in June 2004.
Three or four childcare providers are needed Tuesday, April 13, from 6:45 to 8:00 p.m. at the Crookston Family Service Center (the Head Start building, formerly Carmen School). Child activities are already planned. As part of the Blue Ribbon Campaign and Month of the Young Child, Parents Helping Parents will be hosting a speaker, Carol Helland, who will be speaking on “Teach Your Children Well.” Please contact Karen Brekken at 926-5655 for more information.

CSA News

CSA News will return in the March 29 issue of the Eagle’s Eye.

Super Saturday is March 27

Do you know an individual who wants to go to college, but hasn’t committed to a school yet? Have they considered UMC? Let them know about Super Saturday, an opportunity to go on a campus tour and visit with UMC students and faculty. If you know someone who may be interested in this opportunity have them contact the Admissions Office at 1.800.862.6466 or e-mail info@mail.crk.umn.edu

UMC Purchases AED

An Automated External Defibrillator (AED) has been purchased and put into service at the Sports Center. This is the first AED installed on the UMC campus. The Athletic Department applied for and received a grant from the NSIC to help fund this purchase. These funds along with support from Students Affairs, Student Health and the Student Center made it possible for UMC to secure the AED. Brian Holmer and Great Plains EMS assisted in securing a vendor. Great Plains EMS staff have trained personnel from UMC in the use of the AED. Lew Hanson from Facilities Management installed a cabinet to store the AED. Thanks to all who helped make the purchase of the AED possible.

Millionaire Man coming to UMC

On Monday, March 29th, at 8:00 Campus Crusade for Christ will be sponsoring professional speaker Todd Sinelli in Kiehle Auditorium. Todd Sinelli likes to write and speak about words that begin with capital letters: Money, Success, and Dreams. Armed with statistics, questions, and self-effacing humor, Sinelli will provoke your imagination and leave you tapping your head saying one word, “Wow!” Broke at 24. A millionaire at 25. A multi-millionaire at 26. Practically broke again at 28. While working as a professional trader in the financial markets, Todd lost everything he had and then rebuilt his fortune multiple times before the age of 30. Experiential and academic education have been driving forces in Todd’s life. His new ambition is to educate others about how to live your dreams, two words that could change your life, and the secret to always bring rich through the life-changing message contained within True Riches. The Journey Worship Band will be playing at this event.

Women Inspiring Hope and Possibility March 25

We don’t always have to look far away to find women who inspire our dreams, challenge our thinking, and nourish our spirits. They are often right here among us as mentors, colleagues, neighbors, and friends. In celebration of Women’s History Month UMC will present “Women Inspiring Hope and Possibility,” an informal evening of sharing and discussion with nine area women who know what it is to live fully, faithfully, and joyfully in these modern times.

The event will take place Thursday, March 25, at 7 p.m. in Youngquist Auditorium of the Agricultural Research Center. Admission is free and open to the public, and the event is suitable for all ages. The discussion will be facilitated by Lynnette Mullins, assistant professor of communications at UMC. In addition to the discussion, the recipient of the 2004 Aspire Scholarship, created to celebrate, support, and encourage women who have returned to college to fulfill their academic, personal, and career goals, will be announced. Refreshments will follow. Come and bring a friend, a mother, sister, a daughter or anyone who inspires you!

Brain Teasers

This week’s winner is Chris “Zylo” Owens. Chris knew the answer to the March 8 puzzle. He can pick up his free movie pass at the Dowell Info Desk. Can you decipher the simple old saying listed below? For example: “Neophytes’ serendipity” would translate to “Beginner’s Luck.” “Surveillance should precede saltation” would translate to “Look before you leap.” Can you guess this week’s puzzle? If you think you know the answer, send an e-mail to melonir. A winner will be chosen from the correct answers. The winner will receive a free ticket to the Grand Theatre in Crookston. Email your answer to melonir prior to noon on Thursday, March 25. The winner’s name will appear in the March 29 Eagle’s Eye.

Partners Internship Program

Twenty nonprofit organizations in Minnesota, North Dakota, and northwestern Wisconsin have been selected as Partners Internship Program sites for the summer of 2004. Applications are now being accepted for these internship positions, which are open to undergraduates. Students work full-time for 10 weeks and are paid $8.75 per hour. HECUA provides support and two seminars that frame the experience and make connections to social change. Students should apply directly to organizations by April 1, 2004. For more information, including a list of participating organizations, see http://www.hecua.org/pip/student_pip.html or stop by the Dowell Info Desk. With questions, contact Lauren Swanstrom at 651-287-3305 or lswanstrom@hecua.org.

Blood Drive

The Anatomy & Physiology class is sponsoring a Blood Drive on Tuesday, April 6 at Lysaker Gymnasium. You can sign up to donate blood March 29 through April 2 in the Sahlstrom Conference Center Lobby.

Sign Up for Swing Dance Lessons

Intramurals and the Student Center are sponsoring Swing Dance lessons at UMC. The lessons will be held on four consecutive Tuesday evenings beginning April 6 (April 6, 13, 20 and 27). The lessons will begin at 8 p.m. in Lysaker Gymnasium. There is a $5 charge per person. These lessons are limited to the first 40 individuals. Sign up as a couple or sign up as an individual and be matched up with a partner. Must pay for lessons when you sign up at Dowell Info Desk.

Informational Session on Women and Heart Disease

In conjunction with Women’s History Monday, there will be a session entitled “Empowering Women to Reduce Risk of Heart Disease”, Tuesday, March 30th, 12:00 to 1:00, SCC 131. Health professionals from RiverView will be on campus to provide us with information related to this topic. A few facts related to this issue: heart disease is the leading cause of death of American women and kills 32% of them; 43% of deaths in American women (or nearly 500,000) are caused by cardiovascular disease (heart disease and stroke) each year; women who smoke risk having a heart attack 19 years earlier than non-smoking women. Heart disease is an important topic for everyone. For those wondering why the focus on women only, please refer to the following web site http://www.womenheart.org/information/women_and_heart_disease_fact_sheet.asp Free refreshments and assorted muffins will be provided. This event is open to everyone.
