Comedian Bengt Washburn to perform September 22

Comedian Bengt Washburn will perform Wednesday, September 22 at 8 p.m. in Kiehle Auditorium. Bengt (pronounced “bent”) Washburn was born into a small Mormon family (seven kids) and raised in a big Mormon town (pop. 1,000) in Utah. Always fresh, an evening with Bengt presents the world as seen through the eyes of a small town Mormon boy gone slightly awry. Bengt is unique yet universal, achieving the quirky while remaining accessible. Described as “an intellectual with an imp’s perspective,” his musings are clever, silly, poignant, pointed, irreverent, thought-provoking, and hilarious.

Student Conduct Code

UMC is committed to maintaining a community free from violence, threats, and intimidation; protective of free inquiry; respectful of the rights of others; open to change; supportive of democratic and lawful procedures; and dedicated to the rational and orderly approach to the resolution of human problems. To safeguard the rights, opportunities, and welfare of students, faculty, staff, and guests of the University community and to ensure protection of the University’s interests as it seeks to carry out its mission on behalf of the citizens of Minnesota, certain minimum standards have been adopted as contained in the University’s Student Conduct Code. Copies are available at various locations around campus including the Dowell Information Desk, the Library, and the One Stop Student Center. The Student Conduct Code and other UMC policies can also be accessed from the UMC policy web page at: http://www.crk.umn.edu/campusinfo/policies/policies.htm. All students at UMC are responsible for knowing and complying with these standards. Failure to comply may result in disciplinary action up to, and including, suspension or expulsion.

Successful Strategies for ADA Compliance

A 90 minute interactive audio conference featuring Jane Jarrow and Scott Lissner is scheduled for September 30, 2004, in Selvig 308 from 1 p.m. to 2:30 p.m. Learn about best practices for developing a solid policy framework for our institution and key regulatory requirements. The audio conference is open to any interested person on campus who has responsibilities related to ADA compliance. Please RSVP to Laurie Wilson so that an adequate number of informational packets can be prepared. Thank you.

Attention Students with Disabilities

Students with disabilities who need academic accommodations such as text tapes, note-taking assistance, developing study plans, and strengthening study skills, or arranging for exam accommodations must meet with Laurie Wilson in Owen 270 and provide documentation of their disability prior to receiving services. You may drop by Owen 270, email lwilson for an appointment, or call 8587 to schedule. Students who make their arrangements early in the semester and follow through with accommodations have a much better chance of being successful in their courses and getting needed assistance. Thank you and welcome to the new semester.
Volunteer Teacher Assistants are needed for the Early Childhood and Family Education (ECFE) program located at Carmen School, 1407 Erskine Street. Available hours are Monday and Thursday 6:30 – 8:00 p.m.; Tuesday and Wednesday 9:30 – 11:00 a.m.; and Friday 1:00 – 2:30 p.m. For more information, please contact Suzanne St. Michel at 281-2762.

15-Passenger Van Training – September 22

Effective November 1, 2002 the University of Minnesota will not allow employees or students to drive a 15-passenger van unless they have completed a safety certification course. This new policy applies to vans owned by the University and rented from an outside source! There will be no exceptions to this policy! You must attend in person to receive certification by the University of Minnesota. UMC Facilities Management will not allow vans to be reserved, picked up or driven unless you are on a list of certified drivers. If you might be asked to drive a 15-passenger van as part of your position’s responsibilities, for a class, field trip, club activity, community service or athletic event, you must complete this training. Administrators, faculty, advisors, coaches and workstudy supervisors, please contact any students that may need this training to assist you. (If you have previously completed the training, you do not need to attend again.) Training is provided by Mr. Bill Roberts, Director of Fleet Services for the University of Minnesota. He has an excellent training program full of important information for all drivers. Please arrange schedules so that those who need the training can attend on: Wednesday, September 22, 3:00-4:45pm, Hill 4. This will be the only time this training is provided during the 2004 Fall Semester! Pre-registration is required. For questions and registration, please contact Tom Feiro, Environmental Health & Safety at -8300 or via email at tfeiro OR Michelle Ramstad, Facilities Management and Operations, at -8483 or umlr005.

Meningitis Vaccination Clinic

There will be a meningitis vaccination clinic on TUESDAY, SEPT. 21st, 11:00 to 1:00, Kiehle 116. Cost $70.00. No appointment necessary. Call Stacey Grunewald at 8512 with any questions. Check out the following web site for more info. http://www.cdc.gov/nip/publications/VIS/vis-mening.pdf.

‘Yes’ and ‘No’

I was recently asked by a student with a disability if they are required to give their disability information to a faculty member. The answer to that is both ‘yes’ and ‘no’. Students are not required to disclose the specific nature of a disability to a faculty member in order to obtain accommodations, but they are required to document that disability to a significant degree in the Office for Students with Disabilities at UMC in Owen 270. Professors do have a right to know if the students who are seeking accommodations are approved for those accommodations. By University policy, disability documentation is to be stored in the Office for Students with Disabilities and may not be disclosed without the consent of the student. Students seeking accommodations generally meet to discuss their disability information, develop an accommodation plan, and then send those accommodation requests out with their consent to faculty and specific staff. Faculty members are not required to grant accommodation requests that have not been approved by the UMC Office for Students with Disabilities. If you have additional questions or concerns with regard to this information, please contact Laurie Wilson at 8587. Thank you.

Free Tutor Service

Your first exams are fast approaching. If you find you are struggling with the material or lack study skills, pick up and fill out a "Request for Tutor" card at the Academic Assistance Center (AAC) and visit with Bruce Ramstorf, Tutor Program Coordinator. The AAC, located at 270 Owen, offers free tutoring to registered UMC students in a number of subjects. We currently have tutors with openings in Composition and Math as well as many others.

The winner’s name will appear in the September 28 Eagle’s Eye.

Experience, Inc. Unveils New Targeted Career Advice for UMC and other College Students Across the Country

New Resources Help the Nation’s New Workforce Find the “Right” Jobs

Each year, more than 1 million students at thousands of universities across the country visit Experience, Inc., the leading provider of university career networks and the first online college recruiting platform, eRecruiting™. Today, Experience announced new services to help these students with their career development and job searching: advanced content, targeted company and industry news, and guided web research. With these new services, students can find detailed information on employers, industries, job functions, cities as well as insightful career advice and guidance that will help them enter the working world. Experience’s market research shows that the majority of employers would prefer that students be more prepared for interviews and over 70% of college students acknowledge that their research and interviewing skills need improvement. By integrating in-depth content directly into the job search workflow, students can get the information and insight they need to help them make educated decisions and be better prepared throughout the job search process. Content has been aggregated from trusted partners, such as PRNewswire, WetFeet, and Yahoo!, as well as articles developed exclusively by Experience.

“By partnering with Experience, we can help more students prepare for their dream job,” said Don R. Cavalier, Director of Career Services at UMC. “WetFeet offers students the ‘real deal’ on employers, markets and job functions, and now they are able to access this information from within the eRecruiting system, before they even schedule an interview.” The new content sections of eRecruiting™ include:

- 40 detailed career profiles and job description explanations
- 33 profiles of major metropolitan cities
- 29 industry profiles, with links to up-to-the-minute news stories.

In addition, UMC’s career services office can include personalized content and links on over 90% of the pages in eRecruiting, giving students the benefit of further, customized content that is unique to their schools. Students can access the Experience system at www.experience.com or through UMC’s Career Services school’s co-branded eRecruiting web site. Cavalier says that, “Experience is committed to providing UMC with world-class technology and services that educate, assist and inspire our students, and the integration of this dynamic content is just one more example of that.”
