For more information contact Eric Boushey at bous0044@UMCrookston.edu.

Ask Pam

Dear Pam,

Why are the yellow lines painted out in front of the mall area? Does this mean we can’t park there?
Signed, a concerned student

The yellow markings were put in place in case we have to have emergency vehicles on campus and when we have buses coming for various events. You are not allowed to park there and will receive a ticket if you are...yellow means no parking.

Disability accommodations will be provided upon request for all events. The University of Minnesota is an equal opportunity educator and employer. The University of Minnesota is committed to the policy that all persons shall have equal access to its programs, facilities, and employment without regard to race, color, creed, religion, national origin, sex, age, marital status, disability, public assistance status, veteran status, or sexual orientation.
Parent/Guest Access to Student Information

Parent/Guest Access, an online self-service application, allows students active in a program at any of the four University of Minnesota campuses to provide a parent, spouse or other third party with view-only access to their student record information.

Parent/Guest Access allows a third party to see up to six of the following areas of a student’s record:
- Enrollment Summary
- Financial Aid Status
- Grades
- Holds
- Student Account
- View Financial Aid Awards

Students invite a third part to be a guest viewer via an e-mail generated within the application. The guest responds by clicking an encoded link within the e-mail. This process associates the student record with the guest viewer. The student then grants specific viewing rights to one or more of the six subject areas of their student record. Students are able to discontinue access to their record at any time.

The process for a student to release information is as follows:

1. The student goes to the Registration Web site. At that site, the student clicks on the Parent/Guest Access link in the right-hand column.

   A Web page will come up with a button marked “Invite Guest.” The student will sign on, using his or her username and password, then identify any guest(s) that he or she wants to have access to specific student records.

   After the student provides the requested information, an e-mail will then be sent to any “guest”.

   The parent/guest will receive an e-mail from the University with an invitation to sign up for guest access. The parent/guest responds by clicking on a link in the e-mail that will allow the parent/guest to obtain a University Internet ID and password of his/her own.

   After the parent/guest has responded, the student is notified by e-mail that the parent/guest has completed the sign-up process.

   The student then assigns any or all of five areas of access to the parent/guest: holds, grades, enrollment summary, financial aid, and billing. The student may choose to allow or deny access to any of the five areas.

   The parent/guest receives an e-mail outlining the access they’ve been given and at any time can click on the link provided to see the student record.

   The fine print: Please note that the release only provides access to information maintained by the University’s Office of the Registrar, Office of Student Financial Aid, and the Business Office. It does not provide access to faculty or advising records, health records, housing records, or records maintained by other campus offices. For more information about student records and data privacy, see Regents Policy on Access to Student Records http://www.crk.umn.edu/campusinfo/policies/access.htm.

e-Degree allows students to apply for their degree online

Students planning on graduating Fall Semester 2005 MUST complete the online degree application by the end of the 2nd week of class which is Tuesday, September 13th.

A new self-service, online application allows students who have earned 90 credits, and students admitted to an undergraduate certificate program, to apply for their degree. “e-Degree” enables students to apply for their degree, as well as defer degrees that they need more time to complete. This is a campus-wide initiative available to Crookston, Duluth, Morris, and Twin Cities students.

The application appears on the “Graduating” page in the One Stop Web site. Students will be able to select where they want their diploma mailed, as well as how they want their name to appear on their diploma.

Tuition and fees refund rate is 100% for classes cancelled by Tuesday, September 6th

Procedures for adding or canceling classes are different if you use web self-registration than if you are required to register in-person (see note at bottom of this message). Deadlines are also different for part-term courses. See page 25 of the Fall 2005 Class Schedule online at http://onestop.umcrookston.edu/registration/class_schedule.htm or refer to the printed version available at the One Stop Student Service Center, 170 Owen Hall, for detailed information.

To change your course load you must either register in-person or register on-line.

1. In-person registration:
   a. Fill out a Registration form available at the One Stop Student Center (170 Owen).
   b. Obtain instructor, adviser, or Academic Standards & Policy Committee approval if required.
   c. Turn in the signed, completed form at the Stop Student Center (170 Owen).

2. On-line registration:

If you decide to stop attending a course or courses for which you are registered, you must officially cancel. Only by canceling the courses can you be released from your responsibility for full tuition and fees for courses listed on your study list. Failure to attend class does not constitute cancellation.
Brain Teasers

FREE Access to Crookston Pool for UMC Students, Faculty and Staff

Each year UMC has signed a contract to use the Crookston Community Pool. The contract has been for general student use as well as for certain UMC classes. The student activity fee has covered a portion of the contract cost and this provides all UMC students with free access to the pool. This year the contract will again provide for free access to all faculty and staff as well as students. We must show our University ID card in order to use the pool under this agreement. Here is the web link to the pool: http://crookston.net/, or email Ken Stromberg at swimpool.crookston@midconetwork.com. Faculty, staff and students can use the pool at no cost for the following sessions:
- Morning lap swim
- Morning aqua exercises (does not cover evening class)
- All open swim times

Crookston has an excellent pool facility and I encourage you to use it. Let me know if you have questions.
