Think about it...According to the College Student Inventory completed each year by thousands of college students including our own new UMC students, the #1 factor affecting student success is insufficient time on task! Simply put, more students would be successful with college work if they invested more time and effort with the coursework they registered for! Be smart. Make a reasonable effort the first time and experience success, save money, and make the kind of progress towards your degree that is possible to make. At the first sign of academic trouble, take action to improve the situation by double-checking your efforts to attend class, take notes, read texts, review materials, and prepare for exams. If you need additional assistance, support or a tutor, stop by the Academic Assistance Center in Owen 270 and make your needs known!
