Fun Facts about Valentine’s Day:

- Long before St. Valentine lived, February 14th had strong links with fertility. The date traditionally is known for when birds choose their mates.
- Roman festival of Lupercalia used to be celebrated on February 15th where young men held a lottery to conclude which girl would be theirs.
- In Medieval times, girls ate bizarre foods on St Valentine’s Day to make them dream of their future spouse.
- In the Middle Ages, there was a belief that the first unmarried person of the opposite sex you met on the morning of St. Valentine’s Day would become your spouse.
- The first Valentine’s gift was sent by Duke of Orleans to his wife, after he was captured in 1415.
- 73% of Valentines Day flowers are bought by men, whereas women buy only 23% of Valentine’s flowers.
- Around 3% of pet owners prefer to give Valentine’s gifts to their pets, as they are more grateful than humans!

Impress your Valentine:

If you are celebrating this Valentine’s Day with a significant other, put some thought into it ahead of time to make the day truly special. Your plans don’t need to be expensive or elaborate to impress your valentine; they just need to be genuinely from the heart. Here are some Valentine’s Day ideas for any budget:

- Rather than one big gesture, fill your valentine’s day with many little reminders of your love. Leave notes in the bathroom or fridge for him or her to find. Have a single long-stemmed rose delivered at work. Sneak home early to light candles around the house, and put a small but sweet gift on his or her pillow at bedtime.
- Relive some highlights of your life together by recreating special moments. Return to the scene of your first date, or plan a theme for the evening that recalls a trip or experience you shared. What was the first movie you saw together? What was the common interest that initially attracted you to each other? Women, think of an outfit you wore on an early special occasion with your beau and try to recreate it. It may surprise you, but he’ll remember.
- Whisk your valentine off on a romantic getaway. Book a room at a bed and breakfast or luxury hotel, and forget all about the outside world. Whether it’s for a night, a weekend or longer, some time dedicated to each other is guaranteed to recharge the relationship.

Name This Senior:

Eagle’s Eye: What city were you born in? Senior: Danbury, CT. I lived in a wooded area cul-de-sac with a view of the nearby airport. I then moved to Wisconsin in 1992 to be closer to family. Eagle’s Eye: Were you an only child growing up? Senior: Yep. Eagle’s Eye: Describe your parents. What are they like? What do they do? Senior: They currently own Schauer & Schumacher Furniture store, but my Mom used to be a English teacher and my dad an accountant for Nestle. Eagle’s Eye: What did you enjoy doing as a child (activities)? Senior: I started playing hockey when I moved to Wisconsin and played football from 6th and 9th grade. When I lived in CT I enjoyed playing with my dog (Joshua) and sailing with my parents. Eagle’s Eye: How old were you when you went on your first date? Where did you go? Senior: I think it was like 6th or 7th grade and then to the roller arena. Eagle’s Eye: What are some of your first jobs? Senior: I worked construction and at JCPenny’s in New York while playing junior hockey. The rest of the time I would always work at my parents store. Name This Senior: See page 5.

Romantic Dinner:

Valentine’s Day wouldn’t be complete without an intimate dinner for two. There are two different directions to take on this one:

- Romantic dinner in – Turn down the lights, light some candles and put soft music on the stereo. Prepare a special dinner of your valentine’s favorites, or plan a classic romantic menu of creamy seafood pasta with chocolate and strawberries for dessert. Even if you’re not a great cook, you can still sweep your valentine off his or her feet and tickle his or her palette with a selection of fine cheeses, high-quality deli meats, artisan bread and gourmet pickles, olives and relishes, followed by fresh fruit and real whipped cream.

- Romantic dinner out – Book a table at a swanky or trendy restaurant, dress to the nines and get out on the town. Let the chef take care of the menu and let the wait staff tend to the details. All you have to do is savor the food and gaze into one another’s eyes. Just a warning, though: Make your reservations well in advance to avoid being disappointed. Any restaurant worth its salt will be booked solid on February 14th.

Valentine’s Gifts and Cards

Although your actions are more meaningful than anything that comes from a store, somehow it just seems wrong to meet your valentine without a card and gift in hand. The traditional valentine’s day of flowers, chocolate and jewelry never fail to please. If you’re anxious to seem more original, give your valentine something that relates to one of his or her passions. She’s a music lover? Get her tickets to see a symphony or a set of high-quality headphones for her mp3 player. He’s into motorbikes? Get him a subscription to a motorcycle magazine or an upgrade for his bike.

If you have kids, help them to make valentine crafts to give to friends and family. Equip them with a box of valentines to distribute to their classmates, or make your own with pink index cards, valentine-themed stickers and glitter glue. Even little ones appreciate the sentiment of the holiday, and enjoy a day of expressing fondness for their loved ones.

Jokes of the Week

There was once a young man who, in his youth, professed his desire to become a great writer.

When asked to define "great" he said, "I want to write stuff that the whole world will read, stuff that people will react to on a truly emotional level, stuff that will make them scream, cry, howl in pain and anger!"

He now writes error messages for Microsoft Corporation.

A little boy wasn’t getting good grades in school. One day he surprised the teacher by tapping her on the shoulder and saying, “I don’t want to scare you, but my daddy says if I don’t get better grades somebody is going to get a spanking!”

A young businessman had just started his own firm. He’d rented a beautiful office and had it furnished with antiques. Sitting there, he saw a man come into the outer office. Wishing to appear busy, the businessman picked up the phone and started to pretend he had a big deal working. He threw huge figures around and made giant commitments. Finally, he hung up and asked the visitor, “Can I help you?” The man said, “Sure. I’ve come to install the phone!”...
