The National Society for Leadership and Success presents a live video broadcast entitled: “Leveraging Facebook, Twitter and Your Digital Identify in College” on Tuesday, November 9 at 6 p.m., in Kiehle Auditorium. Learn the ins and outs of your digital identity, and get ahead in school and life. The presenter will be Tom Krieglstein.

Did you know...
- 70% of employers search the web before hiring
- Students today spend more time on Facebook than in class
- Social sites are bigger and more popular than television

Tom Krieglstein - After starting his first 1.5+ million dollar business in college, Tom Krieglstein was hooded on entrepreneurship. A former “C” student that discovered the positive change made by getting involved, he co-founded Red Rover: a directory that unlocks human potential by helping students build their personal learning network. Krieglstein is known as a social media and networking expert, and works with hundreds of colleges and universities to bring students together across the United States.

Linkedin - Your Way to a New Job & Strong Network

It’s NOT Facebook. Learn the RIGHT Way To Engage!

LinkedIn is the 800lb guerrilla in the professional networking arena. It is smaller (in signups) than Twitter and Facebook but the networkers are a different type of person, and come to the site with professional and business purpose. This presentation helps you understand what LinkedIn is, where the value comes, and how to get proactive and reactive value from this powerful network.

Introduction to LinkedIn – where’s the value?

Optimizing your Profile to BE FOUND

Finding key contacts – how to turn over the best rocks

Sharing your Personal Brand in LinkedIn

How to nurture individual relationships with LinkedIn tools

Developing the right strategy for you on 2 minutes or 2 hours a week

If you don’t know the culture and language of LinkedIn, you could make some significant mistakes that could hinder your job search. Stop in to this Webinar to learn the ropes!

The University of Minnesota, Crookston Baseball program will be hosting its third annual fundraiser dinner at the Crookston Eagles Club on Thursday, November 11. Cost of the dinner is $30 for either prime rib or walleye. All proceeds will benefit the Golden Eagle Baseball program.

A social will be held at 6 p.m. with dinner at 6:30 p.m. Shortly thereafter, a program will be held with special guest speaker Donald “Bucky” Burgau. Burgau is the head baseball coach at Concordia College – Moorhead and also an assistant coach with the Fargo-Moorhead Redhawks.

A native of Perham, Minn., Burgau will be entering his 33rd season as head coach of the Cobbers. He has amassed 612 victories including 375 in the Minnesota Intercollegiate Athletic Conference (MIAC). Burgau is the all-time winningest baseball coach in the history of the MIAC. A member of the Concordia College Hall of Fame, he is one of the few coaches to be inducted while still active. Burgau played at Fergus Falls Community College and North Dakota State University (NDSU) prior to coaching at NDSU for four seasons. He also coached the Moorhead American Legion Post #21 Blues for 27 seasons compiling 883 wins and leading the Blues to a fourth place finish at the 1988 American Legion World Series.

“I couldn’t be more elated to have Bucky Burgau as our guest speaker,” says University of Minnesota, Crookston Head Baseball Coach Chris Vito. “Very few people have done for baseball in our region what he has. In addition to being a true keeper of the game, Bucky is someone I have considered a dear friend and mentor for many years.”

There will also be a 50/50 drawing and a small silent auction. One of the silent auction items is an autographed jersey from Minnesota Twins slugger Jim Thome.

For tickets contact either...

CROOKSTON
BEYOND THE YELLOW RIBBON
AWARENESS WEEK

CHECK OUT WHAT IS GOING ON!

1st Annual Beyond the Yellow Ribbon Awareness Week
Sunday, November 7, 2010 - Saturday, November 13, 2010

Communities -- Tie a yellow ribbon around a tree in your front yard, on your house door, window, car. Fly your American flag.

Businesses -- display a “Beyond the Yellow Ribbon” sign; place yellow ribbons in and around your business; encourage employees to wear yellow ribbons throughout the week.

Churches -- show the “Beyond the Yellow Ribbon” video during services; incorporate a “Beyond the Yellow Ribbon” activity into Sunday School classes; and place all Servicemembers and their families on your prayer lists.

Schools - (public and private schools) are decorating Hugo's grocery bags to be used during Awareness Week so ask for paper. The LEO Club has made about 600 yellow ribbons to hand out to the businesses in Crookston for the employees to wear. The Journalism Class at CHS will be interviewing veterans and putting together a documentary.

Veterans Day -- Thursday, November 11
Wear Red, White and Blue in honor of our veterans and those currently serving.
Attend the Laying of the Wreath Ceremony at the Memorial Walkway at 11:00 a.m. followed by a light lunch for veterans, their families & friends at the VFW from Noon - 2:00 p.m. Highland Elementary School’s Veterans Day Program at 1:30 p.m. in the gymnasium.
Veterans Day Dinner at the American Legion 5:00 p.m. Social, 5:30 p.m., Supper and Program
The supper is free for all veterans. All others $6.00 per meal. Washington Elementary students are making yellow ribbon posters to be used as placemats at the American Legion Veterans Day Supper.
Jim Buckmiller will be doing a BYR presentation at the Veterans Day Supper. The “Missing Man” Table will be on display at the Legion.
Be There ~ Done That, is a campus group for students who want to make positive life choices. It meets from 12:30 -1:30 every Tuesday in SSC 244 or until a larger room is needed! Who should attend? You should attend if you want to meet other students who are ready to live differently. Been There ~ Done That could be for you.

Counseling Corner

Depression Awareness / Suicide Prevention

Throughout the next several weeks, counseling staff will be sharing information with the campus community related to depression awareness and suicide prevention. Some people might think that talking about difficult subjects might ‘give people ideas’ but we know that it is important to be able to discuss such topics honestly, and that each member of the campus has a role to play in prevention, education, outreach and support.

• This month, you will see new ‘Stall Stories’ and other written materials that highlight actions each of us can take to be healthier and happier and empowered to make positive life choices.

• You’ll continue to have the opportunity to participate in the Been There / Done That group meeting on Tuesdays from 12:30 -1:30 in SSC 244 (all welcome).

• You’ll learn more about the November 20th event being co-sponsored on our campus by Campus Ministry for those who have experienced the loss of a family or friend by suicide.

• You’ll learn more about a form of depression called Seasonal Affective Disorder that is prevalent in the northern latitudes as the winter months approach. You’ll also learn techniques to counter the effects of SAD that will keep you feeling fine.

• We’ll update and publish a guide to regional resources for those of you who might want or need to seek mental health treatment off campus.

• And, we’ll use the Eagle Eye to explore some of the “Myths of Suicide” that all of us should know about.

If you would like to meet with a member of the UMC counseling staff to discuss these topics or others, or to get assistance with a referral you may contact any one of us to begin the process. We are: Don Cavalier, Vicki Svedarsky, Rand Rasmussen or Laurie Wilson. Other campus resource staff include Stacey Grunewald and Chris Boike with Campus Ministry.

Suicide Myth #1

Suicide always occurs without any warning signs.

Suicide Fact

There are almost always warning signs. Some of them include: prolonged depression, alcohol or drug use, giving away prized possessions, suicidal threats, statements revealing a desire to die, writing about death or suicide, feeling hopeless or helpless, stockpiling pills, making funeral arrangements, feeling anger or rage, feeling sad most or all of the time, feeling excessive guilt or shame, losing interest in activities, feeling trapped, acting recklessly, previous suicidal attempts, purchasing a gun, acting impulsively, sudden changes in behavior.

If you know someone who is exhibiting several of the warning signs, get help immediately. Suicide can be prevented. On campus: Don Cavalier, Vicki Svedarsky, Rand Rasmussen, Jason Tangquist, Stacey Grunewald, Chris Boike, Laurie Wilson.
Brain Teasers

Last week’s winner is Haley Rasmusson. Haley knew last week’s puzzle was “What goes up must come down.” She can pick up her free movie pass from Meloni in 236 Sargeant Student Center. Can you guess this week’s puzzle? If you think you know the answer, send an e-mail to melonir. A winner will be chosen from the correct answers. The winner will receive a free ticket to the Grand Theatre in Crookston. Email your answer to Meloni prior to noon on Thursday, November 11, 2010. The winner’s name will appear in the next Eagle’s Eye.
