How to read times for classes and exams

The class schedule and the final examination schedule in this publication both use the military time format to list class meeting time or final examination times. The military time format is quite easy to understand if you will remember the following:

1. All a.m. (morning) times are shown as 0100 to 1200. An 8:00 a.m. class, for example, is shown as meeting between 0800 and 0850.
2. All p.m. (afternoon and evening) times are shown as 1200 to 2359. A 2:00 p.m. class, for example, is shown as meeting between 1400 and 1450. A 7:00 p.m. class would be shown as starting at 1900.

Spring Semester 2013 Final Exam Schedule

All one and two credit course exams will be given during the final week of class during the regular class hours.

All other examinations will be as indicated below. Each examination period is one hour and fifty minutes in length, with a ten-minute interval between periods. All exams will be held in regular classrooms unless otherwise designated by the instructor.

The final examination schedule is based on the class meeting time; specifically, the first hour of the first day of the week of the first lecture period.

Example: An 11:00 Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Friday class must test at 2:00 p.m. on Wednesday, May 8. Or, a class meeting at 08:00 Tuesday, Thursday must test at 8:00 a.m. on Tuesday, May 7.

The deadline for submitting final grades is 5 p.m. on Wednesday, May 15, 2013.
