What is influenza (also called flu)?
The flu is a contagious respiratory illness caused by influenza viruses that infect the nose, throat, and lungs. It can cause mild to severe illness, and at times can lead to death. The best way to prevent the flu is by getting a flu vaccine each year.

When to get vaccinated against seasonal flu?
Yearly flu vaccination should begin in September, or as soon as vaccine is available, and continue throughout the flu season which can last as late as May. This is because the timing and duration of flu seasons vary. While flu season can begin early as October, most of the time seasonal flu activity peaks in January, February or later.

Who should get vaccinated?
Everyone 6 months and older should get a flu vaccine each year. This recommendation has been in place since February 24, 2010 when CDC’s Advisory Committee on Immunization Practices (ACIP) voted for “universal” flu vaccination in the U.S. to expand protection against the flu to more people. While everyone should get a flu vaccine each flu season, it’s especially important that certain people get vaccinated either because they are at high risk of having serious flu-related complications or because they live with or care for people at high risk for developing flu-related complications.

Prevention tips for cold and flu:
1. Wash your hands. That means using SOAP and water and scrubbing for at least 20 seconds! (Sing “Happy Birthday” twice)
2. Don’t share drinking glasses, utensils, towels, or other items that may spread germs.
3. Get a Flu shot!

For more info on influenza, check out the following web site at www.cdc.gov/flu/about/disease/index.htm

Edgar Allan Poe the Focus of Essay by Rachel McCoppin

Often the celebration of Halloween conjures up tales of suspense and for many the spooky stories of the famous author Edgar Allan Poe. A book published recently on Poe includes an essay by Associate Professor Rachel McCoppin, Ph.D., who teaches in the Liberal Arts and Education Department at the University of Minnesota, Crookston.
The book entitled Adapting Poe: Re-Imaginings in Popular Culture published by Palgrave Macmillan includes the essay “Horrific Obsessions: Poe’s Legacy of the Unreliable Narrator” authored by McCoppin.
“My article focuses on Poe’s narrators in some of his most famous stories, like “The Tell-Tale Heart” and “The Black Cat” and connects them to leading characters in the popular films, Alfred Hitchcock’s Vertigo and M. Night Shyamalan’s Sixth Sense, to show how failing to know oneself may lead, given the right circumstances, to terror.”

Get To Know Your Golden Eagles: Mary Mikutowski
By Shawn Smith, Sports Information Director

We caught with sophomore outside hitter “Mary Mikutowski”, a native of Stillwater, Minn., this week in an opportunity to better to get to know Mary. In addition to being a member of the UMC volleyball team, Mary also competes in the spring as a member of the Golden Eagle women’s golf team.

How was it that you ended up at the University of Minnesota, Crookston from Stillwater, Minn.?
“Going into my senior year of high school our varsity team did a team camp down at the U of M, Twin Cities. Coach (Lee) Anderson happened to be our team coach for the week. He pulled me aside on one of the last weeks and told me I should come up for a visit, so I did. I fell in love with the school and the campus and decided to come here.”

Who are some of your closest friends on the team or from other UMC athletic teams?
“Well my roommates are Chelsea Wiesner and Brittany Looker from the volleyball team and Ashley Martell from the women’s basketball team. I am pretty close with all of them. I have a lot of classes with Brittany and Ashley. Obviously, I am friends with all of the girls on the volleyball team, as well. And I am friends with a lot of the other student-athletes.”

What are some things you like to do outside of volleyball?
“I like to golf. I am actually on the women’s golf team at UMC, as well. I golf in the spring. I like to study. I do that a lot in my free time. I also listen to music and watch movies in my free time.”

What do you do in order to balance golf, volleyball and your studies, on top of trying to have fun in your free time?
“In the fall it really isn’t a problem because I only golf in the spring. But in the spring it gets a little bit crazy with 5 a.m. workouts in the morning for volleyball and then school all day and then practice for golf later in the day, on top of tournaments. It takes up a lot of time so I have to squeeze as much studying as I can on the road or during the day”

What is your major and what would you like to do after you graduate from UMC?
“I am a health science and biology major. Pre-Physical Therapy is what I am studying and I am hoping to be a physical therapist.”

Why is it that you have chosen to study physical therapy?
“I think it is just something I would enjoy. I like being around athletes because I have all of my life. I think I would enjoy seeing people improve and it could be something I would love to do.”

(To know more about Mary Mikutowski, visit the Golden Eagle Athletics Web site at www.goldeneaglesports.com.)
