Richard Nelson withdrew this item at this time.

Richard Nelson moved for acceptance of 1.13, seconded. This course suffers from chronically low enrollment. Material will be moved to other courses. Only one major requires this course and there is only 1 student in that major at this time. Motion passed.

D. INCREASE NUMBER OF CREDITS for EqSc 2102 (Horse Production) from 3 credits to 4 credits. Effective fall 2001.

Richard Nelson deferred to Melissa Hower, who moved for acceptance of 1. C, D, & E together, seconded. The Equine Behavior and Training course will provide students the necessary background for understanding horse psychology and how horses learn to learn either prior to or while they are enrolled in the Horse Training and Showing course (EqSc 3413). Horse Production is covering material from two quarter classes (Intro. To Equine Science and Horse Production). The extra credit is needed to have enough time to cover all materials. This course is also required by the St. Paul campus Animal Science program in their Equine Emphasis. This increase in credits was approved by their curriculum committee. E is to cover the increase in credits due to EqSc 3412 and EqSc 2102. Melissa also noted the FIO item 1.C to reduce the offering of one course to every other year to also help offset the increase in credits for Action Items 1.C & D. FIO 1.C will also increase the quality of that course as it is a class that requires student participation for a more effective learning environment. Less offerings should lead to more enrollment when offered. Motion passed.
